History

#1 - 08/20/2020 11:19 PM - Brian Flanagan

- Status changed from New to In Progress

It appears that it is doing everything except actually processing the keys.

#2 - 11/17/2020 08:48 PM - Paul Kitching

- Affected version changed from 0.9.9.4 to Beta 1

Still not working in Beta 1

#3 - 01/17/2021 12:00 PM - Brian Flanagan

- Estimated time set to 1:00 h

- Affected version changed from Beta 1 to Beta 2

Tested in newest Beta 2 version.

Still fails.

#4 - 02/24/2021 07:59 PM - Paul Kitching

- Affected version changed from Beta 2 to 1.0.0 (B4)

Still fails.

#5 - 07/02/2021 04:36 PM - Paul Kitching

Still not working in B8 Update 15

#6 - 09/13/2021 07:43 AM - Brian Flanagan

- Affected version changed from 1.0.0 (B8) u15 to 1.0.0 (B10) u16

Put Key is partially working now.

You can put a SINGLE key into the input buffer.

It will only get the last character in the string you send to the input buffer though.

Example:

```
Put Key "This"
```

The above will only send "s" to the input buffer.

I'm not getting anything sent to the buffer in Beta 10.

#8 - 09/19/2021 06:39 PM - Paul Kitching

I think the input command is clearing the buffer, as I've tried typing before an input and it's always empty when the input line appears. I'll log that as another bug.
