Description
When creating a new application, empty.file appears in: <pre>resources/1.images resources/2.icons resources/3.musics resources/5.sounds resources/filesystem/application</pre> I understand that the empty.file is needed in order to copy the folders to the new application. Once the application has been created, however, these should be removed. validator.js is created in the application's root folder. Again, once the application has been created, this file should be removed.
