Description
Currently using Betaoz channel ver edu 1.x, if you try and import AMOS, it seems to do it now, but then it comes up with a window where you then cant click ok. All you can do is force close top right, eventually after about 5 times it exits. The other thing is, I cant see where these files have actually gone to, I cant see them in my_aoz_applications currently or in the folder where the AMOS files were sourced from. Unknown at this point.??

- File importamos_wrong_path.png added

Ok in the latest version you can click ok on the import box so that part is fixed.

As far as the AMOS import goes, as above it does import, but I have found now that it goes into or creates a folder where the source file is and then creates another sub folder under that to put your then aoz converted files into.
So just needs to change to your correct my_aoz_applications folder now instead if possible.

- File importamos_savepath.png added

File attached as well showing it should go to my_aoz_applications as it states, but as above only currently outputting to again a subfolder where the source .AMOS file is.

#3 - 01/19/2023 01:26 AM - malcolm harvey

- Subject changed from AMOS import says imported but cant click ok and need to force close to AMOS import file not going into a new folder under my_aoz_applications folder

#4 - 05/12/2023 12:48 AM - malcolm harvey

- Affected version changed from 1.0.0 (B17) to 1.0 (u38)

Same in u43.

#5 - 05/20/2023 11:51 PM - malcolm harvey

- Status changed from New to Closed

This will now no doubt be done away with as in the online editor coming shortly it will all import online anyways.
Or it will all go into the applications folder online regardless. Closed ticket.
